Kieran,

Thank you for your letter of March 27. Your proposal as set forth is not acceptable to Rimini. First, as explained in my letter of March 13, Rimini maintains that evidence of additional acts of alleged infringement is cumulative and will only waste time at trial and increase the burden on the court and the jury. Second, Rimini remains concerned that Oracle is seemingly seeking another round of summary judgment briefing by asking for legal interpretation of allegedly unambiguous license provisions.

If you think that providing us with your proposed instructions will clarify your proposal, please feel free to do so. We will consider those instructions in light of the reservations we have set forth above.

Best, Rob
